

ABSTRACT

A compound adjustable garment supporting apparatus (100) is disclosed having first garment supporting assembly (102, 103, 104, 105) and second garment supporting assembly (121, 122, 123), each positioned at a different level above the floor. The first and second garment supporting assemblies are integrally connected together by a rod 112 for receiving external garment hangers.